Indecipherable. First Cubist—What's the matter, old man? Second Cubist—Something terrible, my friend. Daxon X. asked me for the portrait I made of him and I don't know which one it is.

The Ways of Genius. Cleaner of Artist's Studio—Such a mess in 'ere, Mrs. Baggs, they must 'a' bin in a state last night. Second Ditto—Shameful, I call it; and then 'as the cheek to say it's their artistic temperament.

Taking a Liberty. Little Ethel, who was shopping with her aunt, listened while the gruff but intelligent clerk remonstrated: "Madam, I am sure you will not need so much material. You will find five yards quite ample." As soon as they had left the shop Ethel exclaimed indignantly: "Auntie, I didn't like that man, now one bit! Why, he talked to you just as if he was your husband!"

A Barnum of Finance. "They tell me that every minute there is a fool born into the world," said the old financier. "And," he added piously, "thank God, some of 'em live."

The Refert Courtneys. The crowd was highly dissatisfied with the referee after the match, but don't? was content to yell at him—all except one individual, who insisted on day, seeing and telling him to his face what he thought. "Look here, ref.," he said, sarcastically, "How long can a man live without brains?" "Don't know, old chap," retorted the referee. "How old are you?"

Took a Chance. Rub—What caused the motor accident? Dub—A short skirt and a windy day.

We Hope He got It. "You are working too hard," said a policeman to a man who was drilling a hole in a safe at 2 o'clock in the morning. "What do you mean?" asked the burglar in a disconcerted tone. "I mean you need arrest," answered the policeman.

"Have you heard today's gossip." "No, I haven't." "Then I guess there isn't any."

Professor (seeing the sign, "Fresh painted," over the zebra's cage in the zoological garden): "How very strange! I could have sworn those stripes were natural."
